Grading Information

During the course, you will accumulate a point total of up to 750 points which will be allocated as follows:

1. My Lab Homework: 20 assignments worth 4 points each = 80 points
2. Video acknowledgement: 20 items worth 1 point each = 20 points
3. Classwork/Class Attendance: 37 non-exam class meetings (see syllabus for details) = 100 points
4. Quizzes: 6 quizzes (lowest scored dropped) worth 20 points each = 100 points
5. Exams: 4 exams (lowest score dropped) worth 100 points each = 300 points
   - Students may earn up to 5 points on the first exam by attending up to 5 PAL sessions offered by the Academic Achievement Center. This applies to Exam #1 ONLY.
6. Final Exam: 150 points
7. There is no grade curving and no extra credit in this course. Grades will be available in Canvas.

At the end of the course, your Points Total will be divided by 750 to get a percentage and then converted into your Course Letter Grade using the 90%, 80%, 70%, 60% Grading Scale.

Math 1350: Survey of Calculus

Spring 2025 • 4 credits

Class Absences

Class meetings are required and essential for your success in Math 1350. You will begin with 100 points for attending and participating in class. You are allowed to miss three classes with no consequences for your grade. For each class missed class beyond your third absence, 3 points will be deducted from that total. Exam days do not count towards the attendance totals.

You may only be excused from class if you have a university approved documented reason (university sponsored event, jury duty, religious observations, or military service). Excused absences will not be counted against you for attendance points. Being sick, travel delays, or any other personal reasons will not be excused and will count as toward the three-day maximum absences. If you experience an extended absence because of illness you are encouraged to visit https://www.ohio.edu/accessibility to receive attendance accommodations.

Final Exam

All students for all sections of MATH 1350 must take the final exam at the common time advertised at https://www.ohio.edu/registrar/final-exam-schedule.

- All students must take the common final on April 30, 2025, at 2:30 PM.
- Rooms will be announced approximately one week prior to the date.
- Information about the final exam, such as study topics and PAL/Study sessions, will be shared through Canvas Announcements approximately one week in advance.
- If a student misses the final exam, the score of zero will be earned.
- Once the final exam period is over the course is finished and no work will be accepted.

Missing a Quiz or Exam

NO makeup exams will be given unless an approved letter indicating that you are missing due to an Ohio University-sponsored event or an approved religious observance in accordance with the Religious Observation Policy (see syllabus). Otherwise, students who miss an exam or quiz will receive a zero on the assessment. At the end of the semester the lowest quiz score and the lowest test score will be dropped. The dropped quiz and exam policies exist to allow for instances where a student may be sick or otherwise miss an assessment. ALL assessments MUST be proctored in person.

There is NO exception to this policy without extenuating circumstances such as a hospital stay. It is improbable that a student would be sick on exam/quiz day and sick again on another exam/quiz day. Therefore, being sick for an exam or quiz does not qualify for a makeup. In the rare occasion that a make-up is granted, the make-up must be completed within 2 school days of the initial assessment.

Tutoring Services

Tutoring Services offers free tutoring for over 250+ courses for all OU undergraduates on the Athens campus through at https://www.ohio.edu/university-college/academic-achievement-center and specifically for mathematics through the STEM Academy. Tutoring is not a sign of weakness; it is a sign that you want to learn! Get help early and often. You may also attend office hours or set up a Teams meeting with your instructor when needed. There are also Peer Assisted Learning (PAL) sessions available for Math 1350. Dates and times of these sessions will be shared in Canvas announcements.
